ANNUAL REPORT

OF THE

INSPECTORS OF PENITENTIARIES

FOR THE

FISCAL YEAR 1905-6

To the Honourable A. B. AYLESWORTH, K.C.,
Minister of Justice.

SIR,—We have the honour to submit herewith reports and statistics in connection with the penitentiaries of Canada for the fiscal year ended June 30, 1906.

The reports and statistics in connection with Regina jail, Prince Albert jail and the Yukon penitentiaries will be found in appendices ‘N,’ ‘O,’ and ‘P,’ respectively.

The tabulated statistics include only those referring to the penitentiaries under our supervision.

POPULATION.

The average daily population of the penitentiaries for the past seven years has been as follows:—

1899-0.....	1,430
1900-1.....	1,405
1901-2.....	1,294
1902-3.....	1,224
1903-4.....	1,286
1904-5.....	1,359
1905-6.....	1,407

It will be observed that although there is an increase as compared with the preceding year the population is still below the number in custody seven years ago. During the past year there has been an increase at every penitentiary except Dorchester.

* One since recaptured.

The increase in the number received from jails is ten per cent as compared with the previous year.

The escape from Manitoba penitentiary was due chiefly to the structural insecurity of the cells in which the escaped convicts were incarcerated and the defects will be remedied before the cells are again occupied.

* One recaptured.

The continued success that has characterized the operation of the parole system fully justifies the increase in the number of paroles granted. The report of the officer in charge of that department of prison work will be found in 'Appendix A' and speaks for itself. The responsibility of supervising several hundred convicted men, scattered from the Atlantic to the Pacific, is sufficient to tax the energies of any one man, and it is gratifying, therefore, to know that the work, formerly performed by Mr. Archibald, in connection with those discharged by expiry of sentence is being continued by Lt.-Col. Pugmire, of the Salvation Army, who has already proved himself a good Samaritan to many a friendless convict as he emerged from legal death to citizenship.

With Mr. Archibald's supervision of those who have been granted parole and Lt.-Col. Pugmire ready to assist those who are otherwise discharged there is no reason why any man on leaving the prison should find it necessary to resume a criminal career.

SESSIONAL PAPER No. 34

A secondary, but none the less important, result of the parole system is the pecuniary saving to the taxpayers. There are at present four hundred men, who would otherwise be burdensome dependents on the state, who are now self-supporting producers.

EDUCATION.

	Number who can read and write.	Number who can read only.	Number who cannot read or write.	Total.
Kingston.....	371	9	80	460
St. Vincent de Paul.	264	49	97	410
Dorchester.....	172	26	13	211
Manitoba.	182	13	21	216
British Columbia.....	119	3	20	142

The number who have a reasonable common school education is very small, probably ten per cent. The number of absolutely illiterate equals sixteen per cent. Many of those who can now read and write were unable to do so when received at the prison.

In addition to the regular school classes, carefully selected libraries, aggregating thirteen thousand volumes, are available to those whose conduct is such as to warrant the granting of the privilege. It is gratifying to note that the library privilege is highly appreciated and is found to be one of the most efficient aids to discipline. The books are selected by a 'library board' consisting of the warden and the chaplains, thus affording the best possible safeguard against the admission of improper literature.

MORAL HABITS.

Total abstainers	197
Temperate.	697
Intemperate.....	545
	<hr/> 1,439

The craving for tobacco, intoxicants and dope follows the convict within the prison and the sentimental pleadings and inducements that are presented to the officers is a daily menace to discipline. In every prison there are officers whose sympathy or cupidity induces them to forget their official responsibility and encourage evasion of the prohibitory regulations in this regard. From time to time officers suffer dismissal for their disloyalty in yielding to the inducements of the convicts, but is it satisfactory to realize that at each institution the staff, generally, enforce the regulations to the best of their ability.

The wilful violators and the weak sympathizers are, fortunately, in a hopeless minority. The danger is noted, however, to emphasize the necessity of care in selecting appointees to the staff. A 'devil's advocate' on the staff of a prison will undo the work of ten loyal officers.

AGE.

Those under twenty years of age constitute one-eighth of the prison population. At St. Vincent de Paul they comprise twenty per cent of the inmates. It is possible that the excess of youthful convicts at this institution is due, at least in part, to the fact that there is no provincial prison except the district jail to which offenders may be sent. In Ontario there is an admirably managed Central Prison to which this class of offenders are more generally sentenced. We cannot emphasize too strongly the opinion, based on personal observation, that association with experienced criminals incidental to penitentiary life is the most dangerous environment in which a lad can be placed.

PUNISHMENTS.

When, a number of years since, the 'triangle' and the 'dark' dungeon were eliminated from the list of penitentiary punishments it was predicted by many that order would be destroyed. The experience of subsequent years has not justified the fear then expressed. During the past year fifty-five per cent of the convicts received no prison punishment whatever. The most common punishment is the loss of remission time earned.

DURATION OF SENTENCE.

There are 56 convicts serving life sentences and 79 others who have sentences of more than ten years. The number serving sentences in excess of ten years is less than ten per cent. This is not more than one-third of the habitual and inveterate criminals in custody, and it follows that by the operation of the fixed sentence system scores of determined and dangerous men are released by expiry of sentence to prey upon the personal rights and property of other citizens. If the object of penal laws be the protection of society that object is not obtained or attainable under a system of fixed sentences. If, as the result of a mistake in the exercise of the prerogative of clemency, one man in a thousand subsequently abuses his freedom the authorities are subjected to general criticism, while scores of dangerous and determined criminals are annually released on expiry of sentence without a word of protest. Society is the slave as well as the victim of usage.

If a physician sent his patient to an hospital or an asylum for a fixed period, with instructions that the patient be released at the end of that period irrespective of his condition, the physician would be considered a candidate for the asylum. The system of fixed sentences for the protection of society is, however, no less absurd and unsafe.

Common sense and public safety demand that dangerous and habitual criminals be kept in custody until they give reasonable assurance of reform.

In the statistics of some countries the origin is substituted for, or accepted as, the nationality. In the foregoing table the actual place of birth is taken to indicate the nationality. Every convict born in Canada, irrespective of parental origin, is classed as a Canadian.

The fact that the aborigines are more law-abiding than the average white man is no doubt due, in part, to the extra surveillance exercised by the government over its wards. The showing is, however, alike creditable to the race and to the officials who are charged with their oversight.

The foregoing table includes the total cost of the penitentiaries to the country—not only current or operating expenses but expenditure for lands, buildings and permanent improvements that may fairly be designated capital account. The latter expenditure fluctuates from year to year and it is necessary to consider the cost exclusive of it in order to obtain an accurate idea of the actual cost of maintaining and operating the institutions. The following table gives the comparative cost for the past three years, exclusive of expenditure for lands buildings and equipment.

JAILS.

The jails at Regina and Prince Albert were, at the beginning of the fiscal year, maintained at Federal expense as territorial jails. When the province of Saskatchewan was established the maintenance of the prisoners in those institutions became a charge upon the province. Inasmuch, however, as a Federal appropriation had been provided for the maintenance of the jails for the entire fiscal year and no provincial appropriation was available an arrangement was made that the jails should be maintained by this department until the close of the fiscal year—the cost of maintenance incurred subsequently to the establishment of the province to be charged to the province of Saskatchewan. The purchase by the province of the existing jail properties is now in course of negotiation.

Respectfully submitted,

DOUGLAS STEWART,
G. W. DAWSON,
Inspectors.

[APPENDIX.]

ARCHITECT'S REPORT.

OTTAWA, August 28, 1906.

Inspectors of Penitentiaries,
Ottawa.

SIRS,—I have the honour to report that during the past year considerable progress has been made in structural and other works in connection with the various penitentiaries.

At Kingston the work of reconstructing the east wing has been brought to completion, thus finishing the reconstruction of the dormitory wings that was begun in 1895. When the penitentiary was built the cells were similar to those in general use at that period. They were very small, badly ventilated and ill-lighted. It was decided to reconstruct them in accordance with modern ideas. The cells were demolished and new ones constructed that are roomy, well lighted, and thoroughly ventilated, each cell being provided with sanitary conveniences and comfortable beds. The penitentiary as reconstructed is thoroughly in accord with modern ideas. The stone and iron work used was provided by convict labour and compares favourably with similar work anywhere. This work provided useful employment for many of the convicts and enabled them to learn several useful trades, such as quarrying, stonedressing, masonry, bricklaying, cement work, iron and steel work, plumbing, plastering, carpentry and painting.

The most important work carried on at St. Vincent de Paul was the erection of the industrial building. A section containing blacksmith's, engineer's, and carpenter's departments, was completed. The building is solidly constructed of cut-stone. Here as at the other penitentiaries the convicts are instructed in the various trades and many of them on leaving the penitentiary find profitable employment.

At Dorchester a large reservoir was constructed and considerable progress made in the erection of the industrial building to replace the wooden structures that were built when the penitentiary was erected.

At Manitoba the new cell wing was begun and we hope it will be completed next year. It will contain 128 cells, built on the plan adopted when the reconstruction of Kingston penitentiary was undertaken. The brick used is produced by convict labour. During the winter extensive alterations were made in the kitchen and bakery—enlarging them to provide for the greatly increased prison population. Excavation for the basement of another section of the industrial building was made and the erection of the building will be undertaken as soon as the cell wing is completed. Some progress was made with the erection of the stone wall surrounding the yard. The water supply is barely sufficient for the present population. If the population continues to increase it will be necessary soon to provide a more liberal supply. A pumping station at some distance from the penitentiary may have to be installed. A number of farm buildings are required and should be erected as soon as possible.

At British Columbia penitentiary, the construction of an industrial building to replace the inconvenient wooden buildings that have been in use since the penitentiary was erected, was begun. It is being built of brick made by convict labour, and will provide ample room for all the industries of the penitentiary. The laundry and the tailor's and shoemaker's shops are completed. The walls of the carpenter, blacksmith and engineer's shops are about half built. The buildings are surrounded by a twelve-foot wooden fence which adds to the security of the penitentiary. A strongly built camp was erected on Wright Island, in Pitt lake, where it is our intention to quarry stone for the foundations of the penitentiary buildings and boundary wall and cut wood for the burning of brick. The stone and wood will be towed down the river twenty miles to the penitentiary.

At all the penitentiaries convict labour is used to produce the materials required in structural work as well as in the erection of the various buildings, such materials only as cannot be produced by convict labour are purchased, such as iron, steel, hardware, glass, cement, lumber, etc. The expenditure for such materials does not exceed one-quarter of the value of the completed buildings. In addition to this saving effected by using convict labour, the work enables us to train many convicts in useful trades, and many of those who have learned trades in our penitentiaries may be found in the large cities of our country leading honest lives and earning the liberal wages paid skilled workmen.

I have the honour to be, sirs,

Your obedient servant,

E. J. ADAMS,

Architect.

APPENDIX A.

DOMINION PAROLE OFFICER'S REPORT

The Honourable A. B. AYLESWORTH, K.C.,
Minister of Justice.

SIR,—I beg to submit my report on the parole system for the fiscal year ended June 30, 1906.

During the year 181 paroles were extended to the inmates of the penitentiaries, an increase of 54 over the year previous.

The number of paroled from the jails, prisons, and reformatories was 94, an increase of 2 over the year previous.

The total number of paroles granted during the year was 278.

The number of sentences expiring on parole during the year was 206, an increase of 158 over the previous year.

The number of men now reporting on parole is 297.

During the six years' operation of the parole system 848 have completed their sentence on parole and have thus earned their full liberty.

The total number placed on parole since the first year of the parole act (1899-00), is 1,360.

The total number of licenses cancelled during the six years was 115, (83 for non-compliance with regulations, and 32 forfeited by subsequent convictions).

The number of licenses cancelled during the past year was 15, two less than the year previous.

The following is the tabulated statement of paroles issued during the last fiscal year:—

Two of this number were returned to Dorchester penitentiary on subsequent conviction.

The criminals under custody to-day have not attracted too much attention by the adoption of the parole system or any other method for their betterment. The motive of the parole is to encourage the criminal to amendment and to become law-abiding. Society cannot safely neglect its criminals notwithstanding the fact that the cost of crime is a great burden to the public treasury.

The calamities of crime are no respecter of persons. They reach to the purest domestic circles and to the happiest of our homes. We are indeed ‘our brother’s keeper.’ I have found the golden rule as sound in the principle of a good citizen as it is in religion, and the doctrine of Cain no more false in religion than it is in the philosophy of common sense. We hear protests against the releasing of the recidivist criminal whom the police regard as incorrigible, but, what about releasing the reformed criminal in a cold, hard and unsympathetic community, with an unequal battle to wage, sometimes without a home or a friend, to be overwhelmed with temptation and sometimes hounded until driven by despair he lapses into the criminal life. When the prevention of crime shall secure the proportion of attention which it deserves, the discharged convict will not lack the consideration he deserves. His proper treatment is as truly a preventive work as the proper treatment of the embryo criminal, for, if the prevention of the first crime is primary and most important, then the prevention of habitual criminality on the part of one who has committed his first offence is of equal moment. Is not the necessity of a proper up-to-date treatment as great a need in one case as the other? Habitual criminality is usually attributed to an ingrained evil character. Much of it has its origin in mere weakness. Sometimes it is caused by lack of opportunity, or, causes may be traced to the discouragements which often result from the failure to secure a place in the strenuous life we live; or, companionship or environment, have been the cause of social disorders, not to say anything of the enmity a community has against the transgressor when an offence has been committed and published abroad. The peculiar and almost universal relationship of indolence with crime teaches us that if we are to hope for the convict’s ultimate reformation it is absolutely necessary that we have suitable employment ready for the man on his discharge from custody. Nothing is so pre-eminently successful in this work as suitable employment and opportunity. A paroled man is still a prisoner in the eyes of the law and his release is simply a test of his willingness and ability to maintain himself as an honest man. In his license he agrees to be temperate and to abstain from vicious associations, and that he will conduct himself in all things as honest and law-abiding. If he is a proper subject to be released he is willing to accept these conditions. The Government on their side assure him that he will have a proper chance, and that he will be protected from persecution. The Government also assume the duty of seeing that he follows the conditions of his license. Prisoners should not be discharged direct from a penitentiary without at least some provision being made for them outside. The step from actual imprisonment to absolute liberty is too great for many to take. Under the parole system his absolute discharge follows on a more or less protracted period. This is one of the reasons of the splendid percentage of men who have been released on parole, who have proven themselves satisfactory cases and have earned their full liberty. Giving doles to a discharged prisoner is not a charitable act, but he should have employment and opportunity to prove himself.

It has been said, and very unjustly too, that our penitentiaries are universities of crime, whose pupils are the enemies of society; and that the criminal class is everywhere made up of men who have received their education in custody. I do not believe that such a statement can be true. If it be so, the more quickly our penal institutions are abolished the better it will be for society. Whatever may have been the condition of the penal institutions in former years, modern institutions do not make criminals. On the other hand they are doing much to unmake them. A large proportion of the prisoners annually discharged from our penitentiaries are far better equipped for gaining an honest living under fair treatment than when they were received. I believe as a rule their physical, mental, and moral conditions are greatly improved through their detention and subsequent treatment. Habits of industry are formed through their being employed at industrial pursuits, discipline is taught which gives men the stronger sense of self-control and self-government. There is no cruelty in a strong or well organized discipline, in fact, cruelty is more often practised where discipline is lax, and an unknown quality. But even should these conditions exist in some of the penal institutions the man generally goes out better than when received.

The man we call a criminal cannot be defined at one glance. He defies any single angle vision. He cannot be estimated from one viewpoint far or near. The police see him as a disturber of the peace, and, one whom they may legitimately exploit. The judge sees him as the violator of law and order, and a subject for all the terrors which the law calls for. The warden of a penal institution sees him under conviction of a crime, to him the fact of his detention and presence in a penitentiary is grim punishment in itself, and he proceeds to carry out the instructions of 'rule and regulation.' Society sees him as a menace to its quiet and good order, and whether the violator of law is in cell or in dungeon, is satisfied to know itself so well rid of this menace.

The criminal will never cease to be a profound study until we have clearly defined the causes which have deflected him from the straight line of accepted conduct to one of such acute moral obliquity. Within our penitentiaries today we have about 1,300 souls. Until the causes which have produced such anti-social results in these units of society are discovered, the criminal man will be the study of the philanthropist and the political economist from whatever viewpoint it may be prosecuted. To seek for the fatal causes which have produced criminals in the heart, and which are still producing them, is one of the quests of the Holy Grail of our century. There are hopeful indications that the quest is neither vain nor delusive.

One thing is certain: we have greatly advanced our methods of dealing with the criminal of late years. We cannot corral all men into classes, or put the brand of disfavour on the masses. The time is not long since the inebriate was the declared incarnation of all perversity and the embodiment of an evil genius. Since it was written that he had no inheritance in the Kingdom of God, it has been a contention among thousands whether he should have allotted to him any inheritance in the kingdom of men. We have learned a more righteous way in dealing with the inebriate. He has been taken in hand by more kindly hands who search for causes as well as the effects, and the inebriate treatment will undergo a radical change during the next decade of research. One thing that is patent to almost everybody to-day is embodied in the fact that inebriety is not, as a rule, a vicious and criminal perversity in men. Perhaps some predisposing cause outside of a depraved heart, where we have so continuously located it, may be held to answer for the masterful drink impulse. The discovery that inebriety may be the symptom of a pathological condition of the brain, and of the nerve centres, and, that the drink impulse is but physical demand for relief—the wild and the maniac cry of the inner man—throws a more lurid light over the way which the unfortunate drunkard has stumbled in his fate for a thousand years. The man in the midst of the drink storm is not found to be a moral delinquent only—he is a physical and mental delinquent. He is an anti-maniac. It is not a jail that is demanded for him, it is the retreat of an asylum. The man is not only sick but impotent. It is not a prison that is needed, but a catholicon within the ward of an hospital.

When once the inebriate is safe out of the hands of the jailer and safe within the hands of the medical practitioner these predisposing causes in the disordered nerve centres will receive an intelligent analysis and treatment. Everything that appeals to the soul and spirit as well as to the reparation of tissue has its place in the medical armamentarium. Already in Canada there is a move in the right direction and the inebriate in Montreal and Toronto is receiving medical attention as special cases. It is the dawn of a better day for this unfortunate man. Theology and pathology are joined together in quest of the source of the inebriate's degeneracy, the one is in no danger of interfering in the domain of the other, both have their province of usefulness in the betterment of men.

To the broadminded and thoughtful, the criminal appeals, as an accident in a great plan. He is not so much the harmful and vicious despoiler as he is himself harmed and despoiled. He is out of place in the vast aggression; and, but for him as an agreeing and accordant aggression, he is an energy misdirected, and because misdirected, not only a wasted energy but one of danger. To remove the menace to society this energy must be turned into another channel, a channel of usefulness and activity. The criminal man or woman is abnormal and out of adjustment, but this does not signify he or she is therefore unadjustable. He must be brought to the right place and adjusted. The problem is, how far can their readjustment be made without sacrificing the existing relations between the doers of the law, and the law-breakers?

One of the highest English authorities I have read on this question states:—‘It is on the assumption that punishment will have the effect of deterring crime that its infliction can alone be justified. It may be well doubted, whether, in more recent times, the humane and praiseworthy desire to restore and reform the fallen criminal, may not have produced too great a tendency to forget that the protection of society should be the first consideration of the law-giver.’

The embordination of the-unit to the imperious demands of the many, is in result generally the cruel use of a force trusted with the many, not for the suppression of the unit, but for the protection of the unit. Society, to justify its position in the case of the man in prison, speaks today of the ‘congenital criminal’; of the ‘born thief’; of the ‘hereditary drunkard’; until it is almost the popular belief, that all thieves are born thieves, and that all drunkards are born drunkards. What possible interest can you or I have in a born criminal? If such there be, he is an alien to society and out of harmony with humanity. If this be true, he is simply a mortal defect and there is no remedy for such.

Let us get as far away as possible from the thought that men are born thieves, or liars or murderers, and that some men succeed to the woeful estate of the drunkard which they cannot decline. The criminal is not born, he is something made and the modern juggernaut, society, which so heartlessly pronounces men degenerates, and passes them by with a wave of the hand, is too responsible for the existing causes of human deterioration to open its mouth in condemnation.

In conclusion, if we are obliged to admit natal defects in men, so we are obliged to admit natal calamities. But natal defects may be destroyed or eradicated, and so indeed many criminal instincts can be destroyed in the child. They have no such roots or fibre that they reach from the 'cradle to the grave.' Men may be born with the instincts of angels, but neither are these angelic instincts of such root or fibre so strong in a man as to defy extinction.

The social conditions which are competent to uproot the vicious instincts of a child, are also competent to firmly root the disposition and the instincts which are not in character vicious, but full of virtue.

Since theology and pathology have united in the discovery of the genesis of crime, it is found that there is nothing in any man, natal or acquired, which makes him a responsible anti-social unit, or which with one or the other, or perhaps both, of these farces, may not be minimized or wholly destroyed.

We must accept the criminal as he is now revealed to us in the searchlight which science and religion turn upon him. He cannot be dismissed as an anthropological monster, he is one with us: he belongs to us; he must be met and treated as a part of the social fabric of life. He must be helped over the chasm which he has dugged with his own hands. The voice of God may fall into a faint whisper in the human soul, but it never dies away into utter silence. The man whose cell may prove his sepulchre, has his past, his ruined broken past, full of wasted opportunities, of fruitless efforts, and unrequited ambitions. He is a man to feel all these things and his soul cries out for the touch of the true and the good.

No man is altogether bad, no one goes so far in wrongdoing but that he can retrace his steps.

An artist once took the face of a seraph and by malicious lines, put into it here and there, changed the seraph's face to that of an evil genius. The order with us must be reversed, we must take the face marked by its evil passion and wrongdoing, and, taking out the sinister lines wrought by the evil, make it the face of the seraph. There is this divine spark in every man. There is a way back to the fair and the good beginning, however devious it may be, or however shadowy its numerous windings.

Respectfully submitted,

W. P. ARCHIBALD,

Dominion Parole Officer.

APPENDIX B
WARDENS' REPORTS.

KINGSTON.

KINGSTON, October 1, 1906.

To the Inspectors of Penitentiaries,
Ottawa.

SIRS,—I have the honour to present my eighth annual report and to transmit statistical tables and returns from the various departments of the Kingston penitentiary for the year 1905-06.

The original appropriation granted for the year was $177,600. To this was added a supplementary grant of $25,000, making the total appropriation $202,600. Of this amount there was expended $181,386.60. Last year our expenditure was $146,447.80, but during that year debts were contracted and unpaid at the close of the year, amounting to $21,184, which amount was paid from the appropriation for the year last closed. Adding this $21,184 to the expenditure of last year and subtracting it from the expenditure for the year covered by this report, we find that the actual expenditure for this year is less than that of last year by more than seven thousand dollars.

PRISON POPULATION.

Discipline.—The number of reports and punishments for the year is, again, exceptionally large; but a large proportion of the reports were for trivial offences, such as talking in shops, and the punishments were, of course, correspondingly light. A large number of reports may indicate unsatisfactory state as to discipline, and, on the other hand, a small number may indicate laxity and carelessness on the part of officers. It is safe to say that the number of prison offences reported and punishments inflicted is not a reliable index as to the general behaviour of the convicts. It is, however, an index as to the vigilance of officers.

Escapes.—Two convicts effected escape from their cells. One of them succeeded in scaling the wall and eluding his pursuers for one week. The other did not escape from the prison proper, but fell in attempting to climb up through an open shaft and received injuries which proved fatal within twenty-four hours. A third attempt was made but the perpetrator was discovered in the act of filing his cell barriers and will be dealt with by the courts outside the prison. All these attempts were made within two months, giving colour to the statement that crime, like suicide, may become epidemic in prison as well as outside. The lesson enforced by the year's experience is, that neither steel barriers nor walls will confine desperate men unless fortified by eternal vigilance on the part of the officers.

6-7 EDWARD VII., A. 1907

Suicide.—Two convicts committed suicide during the year. One was an insane convict and the other was ill in hospital. Inquests were held and verdicts rendered finding suicide by hanging to cell door and exonerating guards on duty in both cases.

Accidents.—No serious accident befel any convict during the year.

The farm.—Our last season's crop of cereals, hay, roots and vegetables, may be ranked amongst the most successful in the history of the prison farm. The high price obtained for pigs materially assisted in the achievement of financial results decidedly satisfactory. Potatoes again proved a failure and we were obliged to secure our supply from distant points at high prices; and, at the time of writing, I am able to say that the story will be repeated when the history of the current year comes to be written. The condition of the farm has been improved by ditching, tilling, levelling of rough and untillable places and building of fences and culverts. Upon the whole our farm work may be said to be our most satisfactory and remunerative industry, and, considering the present and prospective magnitude of the labour problem, the question of diversifying and extending our farming operations may well be set before the department for consideration. Labour for convicts must be provided and farm work has proved itself the best and most remunerative.

Other industries.—Work in the quarry has been continued and much stone has been taken out, but, only a small proportion has been fit for the chisel. We have not yet furnished enough for new window casings for south wing. Repairs to walls and gates will soon demand stones or concrete blocks, which we hope to be able to supply this winter. We have sold some rubble stones for building but have failed to dispose of the macadam and other road metal supplied by the stone-breaking gang. The truth is, we have too many men breaking stones. How shall we employ them at other and more congenial labour? Our blacksmiths are, at last, through with rush work—Edmonton barriers being completed and shipped. New window barriers for south wing will now engage their attention and supply work for some time. Tailors and shoemakers are kept busy with home demands; officers' custom work and Indian contract. Carpenters are kept busy with repairs and some custom work. There is not sufficient work for carpenters.

New cell wing.—I hoped to be able to inform you ere this that our new east wing was completed and occupied. It was intended to have this structure completed by the close of the year, but we failed because of rush work for Alberta penitentiary. All is completed now (and has been for some time) except the blacksmith's work on corridor barriers, and we hope to occupy the reconstructed east wing before winter. Our hopes will be realized unless we receive orders to make something for some western prison. What shall we do with unoccupied parts of the separate ward? Move over the asylum? Make a separate prison for boys? Or keep it as reserve accommodation?

Binder-twine.—As this industry is made the subject of special report at close of the season it is unnecessary to say more than to point out, in a general way, the results of operating under the system prescribed by parliamentary resolution of five years ago, by which we sell to farmers only, on receipt of cash with orders, or to clubs of farmers or to farmers' associations on same terms. We encourage the formation of clubs and cultivate farmers' associations. We ship no twine except on receipt of cash, or to order of responsible bank, or to order of myself with draft against bill of lading, or c.o.d. This season we made extra effort. Mr. Keech was appointed sales agent and sent to the west to encourage and assist in formation of farmers' clubs and make such sales as he could to farmers' associations. The result justified the experiment. We sold more than twice as much as we ever have done before under the 'to farmers only' regulation. But some trouble has ensued. In one or two cases drafts have been refused. Bank had to be instructed to deliver bill of lading to our Mr. Keech and he instructed to distribute twine and make collection. Altogether, however, we have come out pretty well, having only some three tons on our hands in the West. But the result is not satisfactory. We should make and sell 500 tons every year.

SESSIONAL PAPER No. 34

We started in last year with about 350 tons. We sold about 200 tons—less than half our possible output. Our twine was as good as any on the market. Our price was about 2 cts. below other twine of same grade. But our terms shut us out. And our terms will always shut us out. Farmers will not send cash for an article they cannot see and many of them cannot send cash because they haven't got it. To get up clubs costs money and increases price of twine. Competitors take advantage of our terms and misrepresent the quality of our twine. Altogether the outlook is discouraging. We should be able to run the mill all the year. Give us the retail dealers—give us the market on equal terms with our competitors and we will sell all the twine we can make if we run our factory night and day every month of the year. If we cannot have the market why run the factory? All this I say after five years' experience with present system.

I forward without special comment, reports from various departments and hope you will find all satisfactory.

In conclusion I am happy to say that there has been but little unpleasantness between officers during the year and that most of them have done faithful service. As for yourselves, I am thankful for prompt assistance and advice when asked for and have only to regret your inability to visit the prison in official capacity except when sent for.

Yours truly,

J. M. PLATT,
Warden.

Discipline. —The conduct of the convicts during the year has been satisfactory, there were fewer reports and not so many punishments as the year previous—ninety per cent of the reports are for trivial offences, generally due more to thoughtlessness on the part of the convicts than to wickedness, and even this, I regret to say, is mainly caused by the great number of youths that are sentenced to this institution. I mean youths of about 16 to 20 years of age, and who are more disposed to play amongst themselves than to work. Nevertheless, the amount of work done, individually, is satisfactory. The greater number of these convicts are very intelligent, can read and write, most of them learn a trade and will be in position to earn an honest living, should they be so disposed on their discharge. A great number of those convicts that have a trade, are very valuable to the institution as far as the value of the labour is concerned, and I must say that quite a number of them take as much interest and are as steady at work as if they were working for wages outside. This is, of course, very advantageous to the younger convicts learning a trade, as in working with trained mechanics they have the benefit of their experience.

During the year one convict tried to escape, but he was recaptured ten minutes after his disappearance, being overtaken at about 400 to 500 yards from the walls of the penitentiary, arrested by the mounted guard, and was brought back to the penitentiary. Two other convicts made holes in their cells, but the vigilance of the guards caused them to be detected and no doubt frustrated their intention to escape. They were brought before the court and the three of them each condemned to four months over and above the sentence they were serving.

In May last, we had a case of poisoning. One convict drank shellac, which caused his death. The coroner of the district was notified, an inquest took place and the verdict of the jury exonerated of all blame the authorities of the institution.

Ornamental grounds.—It was late last summer before we started work on the terrace in front of the penitentiary. We have kept steady at it and half of the frontage will be completed by the fall. We have this year the benefit of what had been previously done. The well kept grounds in front of the penitentiary are pleasing to the eye and an object of admiration to all strangers. We have now a grass lawn covering a space of 500 feet long by 75 feet broad; last winter, bad as it was, on account of the light fall of snow, offered very little protection to the grass, still it has hardly caused any damage. We are now grading the other half of the grounds, and hope that before the fall the whole of the work, or nearly so, will be completed.

The improvement of the grounds in front of the penitentiary is a vast undertaking, the soil being, more or less, a mass of solid rock. The work is naturally difficult and slow, but once the grading is finished and the whole covered with grass, it will give us a terrace 1,400 feet long by 75 feet broad, and I think will compare favourably in beauty, size and ornamentation with any in the province.

Consider that these improvements were a necessity, it will tend to give both a tidy and stately appearance to our imposing pile of buildings, the whole without cost, as the work is done by convicts under the direction of the officers of the penitentiary.

Kitchen.—The location of the convicts cooking kitchen in the main building close to the public street and main entrance, has been most undesirable for this department. The urgent need of shop extension has prevented the erection of a new kitchen. The utilization of exhaust steam from the electric boilers for heating has enabled us to dispense with the four boilers in the dome basement. The large space thus secured has solved the kitchen difficulty; this apartment is now being fitted up as a kitchen.

A new bake oven is being built, and when completed the baking and the cooking will be centralized, supervision rendered easier and less expensive. The premises vacated by the bakery will be utilized as change room, laundry and drier; these changes will effect a considerable saving in the coal bill, being all located so much nearer to the power house for steam and electric energy. The security and convenience for serving convicts meals attained by these changes would in itself render the change most desirable. The saving in running expenses will be considerable, and still more prove the desirability of these improvements.

New buildings.—We have now taken possession of our new building, installing therein the machinists, blacksmiths, tinsmiths, stonebreakers, etc.

The building is of solid stone, and is the continuation of the stonecutters' shop, which was finished last year. As it stands now, the building has a frontage of 406 feet by 39 feet in width. The different shops are well ventilated, having the most modern improvements, water and water-closets in each shop. The whole is heated by exhaust steam—in fact nothing has been spared to make every shop as comfortable as possible as far as light and air is concerned. All the shops located in the old buildings have been moved into the new building.

6-7 EDWARD VII., A. 1907

The average number of convicts working in the different shops is about as follows:—

Stonecutters.....	from 45 to 50 men.
Stonebreakers.....	“ 50 to 60 “
Machinists.....	“ 25 to 30 “
Blacksmiths.....	“ 30 to 35 “
Tinsmiths.....	“ 15 to 20 “

The different shops occupy all the first floor, the second floor will be used later on by some other shops as required; we can easily give employment in the new shops, located in the first flat, to 200 men with plenty of room to each man. Each shop has a complete set of modern tools and machinery; the motive power is electricity. Each shop has also its own motor, varying in capacity according to need.

There is a trade instructor in each shop, enabling those convicts who are desiring of learning a trade to do so easily under the guidance of a competent instructor. I must say also, that the majority of young men sentenced to this institution ask to learn a trade and when their sentence has expired will be perfectly qualified to earn an honest living.

The shops occupied by the carpenters, tailors, shoemakers, painters and electricians are located in a spacious stone building in the centre of the grounds.

The average number of men employed in these shops is as follows:—

Carpenters.....	from 27 to 30 men.
Tailors.....	“ 20 to 25 “
Painters.....	5 “
Shoemakers.....	“ 20 to 25 “
Electricians.....	“ 5 to 10 “

Farm.—Although we expected better returns from the farm, last year's crop, as a whole, was satisfactory. Of vegetables we had a large quantity. The same can be said of our crop of potatoes which were of good quality. As for hay and oats, we should have had more. Our crop of barley, pease and buckwheat was also inferior in quantity. Still, everything considered, this year's yield was far above the previous year, due no doubt to the fact that farm work was started at the proper time and better done than formerly. However, before the returns from the farm turn out what they should be, we must of necessity, continue to improve the soil, which has been so neglected for years past. Last year, and still more this year, we have greatly improved the soil, the ploughing has been done in good time and well done, drains have been cut wherever needed, thirty-seven carloads manure of first quality, or about one thousand five hundred loads, have been spread over the farm and well mixed, so that the soil is now in far better condition than ever it was before, and should the temperature continue favourable, I am very sanguine that the total crop this year will indeed turn out to be far above the average.

At present we have only one barn, situated in the centre of the farm, but considering that we have much more land under cultivation than formerly, one barn is far from sufficient to shelter our crops. We are therefore erecting two more barns, to be finished in time to receive the year's harvest. Each barn has one hundred feet frontage by forty feet width. One is being erected on the south-east portion of the farm near the quarry, the other one being built on that part of the farm west of the penitentiary. With these two new barns built at the two farthest ends and the other one in the centre of the farm, it will facilitate the work, and enable us to save time, as each part of the farm will have a barn near at hand for the storage of its products and allow us ample time for the threshing of our grain during the winter months.

Piggery.—For years past, we have had to buy, every year, a certain quantity of pork simply for the reason that the piggery is not large enough to hold the necessary stock of young pigs we should keep for the need of the institution. The piggery is not only too small, but the building is also very old and decayed, and the cost to repair and enlarge the present piggery would be so considerable that the department has come to the conclusion that it is preferable to build a new one in the course of the summer. We will, therefore, commence as soon as possible the erection of a larger building than the present one, and once it is finished we will have, without doubt, all the space necessary to fatten every year from 375 to 400 pigs of an average weight of 200 to 225 pounds, which will be quite sufficient for the requirements of the institution.

With the present population, which is increasing all the time, we are using from 45,000 to 50,000 pounds of pork per annum. Of the above quantity we have bought during the year 14,000 pounds, the balance, 31,427 pounds, we supplied ourselves. There is no doubt whatever that with a larger piggery we will in the future always be in position to supply all the pork necessary for the rations of the inmates of this penitentiary, and thus make quite a saving in the cost of our food supplies.

Brickyard.—The tardy spring, cold weather and the rain have seriously delayed our operations at the brickyard. We intend, nevertheless, to make this year the greatest quantity of bricks possible on account of the large quantity we shall require later on in the season.

The machinery, the yards, and in fact the whole of the plant is in perfect order, and if the weather is favourable we will this season make a success of this industry.

We have to build during the year a chimney or smokestack for the boilers, for which several thousand bricks will be required and which would cost a large sum of money had we to purchase the brick in the market. Apart from that chimney we shall also require quite a quantity for sundry other works that we are about to commence, so that we will certainly cause a saving of several thousand of dollars to the department by making our own brick on the premises.

Quarry.—This spring, on account of the great quantity of water in the quarry, we could not start work before the first week in May, nevertheless, we expect that by the fall, we will have quarried a sufficient quantity to meet our requirements, and also to have delivered here on the ground, all the stone necessary to keep our stonecutters busy at work during the winter. The quarry is situated on the south-east portion of the farm, the distance being about one mile from the penitentiary. We generally employ there, on an average, twenty-one convicts under an instructor and three guards. At a distance of about 60 to 75 feet from the centre of the quarry, at three different points, is erected a sentry box of about ten feet high. In each of these sentry boxes one guard is on duty, the surveillance is therefore as perfect as can be. We have also on the ground a small building used as a forge, a blacksmith (convict) is kept busy all day repairing tools; the convicts' dinner, as well as that of the guards, is sent daily in boilers so that it can be served hot. Dinner is given in a building used for that purpose only, and during dinner time the guards keep the same posts as during the working hours.

For the carrying of the stone to the penitentiary, we have a tramway. The stone is loaded on platform cars, drawn by horses; a convict is posted on the cars for the loading and unloading of the stone, under the keeping of a guard. The removal of the stone from the quarry to the penitentiary is thus easily and quickly done.

The quantity of stone taken from the quarry during the summer is quite ample to keep at work from 35 to 40 convicts the year round.

Engineers and blacksmiths.—These two departments have during the year done considerable work for the institution, beside completing the work on hand for cell barriers and doors, including necessary locking apparatus ordered on account of the penitentiaries of Manitoba, Alberta and British Columbia, and which amounts to over $13,500, representing 13,000 days of labour. That amount added to whatever work was done in the tailor and tinsmith's shops for the same penitentiaries, including Dorchester and Kingston, and amounting to about $1,200 more, will be placed to the credit of the institution and will materially lessen the expense of this institution generally.

6-7 EDWARD VII., A. 1907

Water works and electric light.—The engines, boilers, pumps and electric motors have all been inspected during the year by consulting electrical engineer Roderick Parke, E.E., of Toronto. The whole plant is now in perfect order and gives full satisfaction.

Conclusion.—In conclusion I desire to express my sincere thanks to yourselves for the uniform kindness and courtesy which you have at all times extended to me, and also for the valuable assistance which you so often rendered me in the performance of my duties.

I also express my thanks to my deputy and my chief-keeper for their loyal assistance, and thank the general staff of this institution for the respect and devotedness which they have accorded me in the discharge of my duties.

SIRS,—I have the honour to submit my annual report embracing statistical tables and reports from the various departments of the Dorchester penitentiary for the year 1905-06.

We began the year with 233 convicts, 11 of whom were women, and closed with 211, of whom 11 were women. The average during the year was 229, a decrease of 21 from last year.

There were received from common jails 87 males and 7 females, 1 from military prison and 1 male and 1 female who had forfeited their parole, a total of 97.

There were discharged by expiration of sentence 49 males and 5 females, 10 males were pardoned, 46 males and 3 females paroled, 3 males transferred to Kingston, on account of insanity, 2 deaths and 1 discharged by order of court, making a total of 119.

There were no accidents of a serious nature and the general health of the convicts has been good.

There were three unsuccessful attempts to escape during the year.

Work on the new stone workshops, discontinued during the winter, was resumed early in spring and is progressing satisfactorily. Work is also being continued on the new stone reservoir begun last spring.

The farm last year produced a fair average crop; the result of the year's operations is shown in the farm instructor's report which, with statistical tables and other reports, are appended.

The discipline of the prison has been good and the officers have been faithful in the performance of their duties.

Your obedient servant,

J. A. KIRK,
Warden.

The daily average for the year was 203, as against 177 for the previous year.

The conduct and industry of the convicts has been very good (with few exceptions) as shown by the amount of work they have done during the year. The architect, I presume, will report fully on the constructional work. The whole of the basement has been remodelled and we have now a good roomy kitchen. The old bake oven was pulled down and a new oven and bread room built and an office and storeroom for the steward, who, from his office, can oversee the convicts working in the kitchen and bakery. The new cell wing, I hope, will be completed and ready for occupation this winter. My chief trade instructor, and the mason and brickmaker instructor, deserve great credit for the way they have pushed on the work. I should again strongly recommend a building being put up for a recreation room with a gymnasium attached for our officers. As we make our own brick, a building for this purpose would not cost much.

I have the honour to be, sirs,

Yours faithfully,

A. G. IRVINE,
Warden.

This includes two convicts in the asylum.

We have opened up Wright Island quarry, Pitt Lake, situated twenty-seven miles from here by water. We have there fifteen convicts under a trade instructor, and expect before the season closes, about the 1st of September, to have about two hundred cords of wood, and five hundred tons of rock for foundations. Next season we hope to do better as it has taken about six weeks to erect log houses, wharf, etc.

This quarry will only be worked about three months a year, and will supply a long felt want in wood for brick kiln and rock for foundations of new buildings.

As by recent instruction the report on the work of a structural nature has been delegated to the architect, I will only say, that we occupied our new wing with accommodation for one hundred and sixteen convicts about January 1st, and in all respects it has more than fulfilled our expectations, giving us a total cell accommodation for two hundred and twenty-five convicts.

I have the honour to be, sirs,

Your obedient servant,

Warden.

APPENDIX C.

SURGEONS' REPORTS.

KINGSTON.

To the Warden,

In accordance with the statutory requirements, I have the honour herewith to submit my annual report of the medical department of this penitentiary for the year ending June 30, 1906.

The health of the prisoners during the year has been a grade better than last year; notwithstanding this, besides having had a very large number under treatment in the hospital, the number of prisoners on outside treatment has exceeded that of former years. The medicine supplied twice daily to these prisoners for their ailments has the effect of preventing the hospital from being filled more frequently to its full capacity. An epidemic of la grippe, a disease which appears to be ubiquitous, was the cause of considerable trouble amongst our charge, many of whom suffered severely from its effects. The usual diarrhoeal disorders, which may be said to be generally institutional, made their appearance during the summer months, and yielded to the standard dispensary remedies to the value of which hundreds can testify.

It is worthy of notice that the number of cases of pneumonia was unusually large during the cold season. These cases required prolonged hospital detention and it was the care and attention bestowed upon them night and day by the orderlies, who, I must say, have rendered good service under the direction of the overseers, that prevented numerous fatalities. There were no deaths from acute diseases. Great care is exercised in not permitting those who have suffered from any disease, from leaving the hospital and returning to work before entirely convalescent, as it generally means a re-admission.

There have been very few cases of tuberculosis, a fact which is worthy of mention. There was only one case in which the lungs were involved, but the patient suffered from the disease some time before he came under the purview of the law. The glandular variety is of more frequent occurrence, but as the disease is not necessarily fatal and the prisoner remains in good health whilst in pursuit of his daily work, and there is no infection, the demands for treatment are not so frequent. In the pulmonary variety we should be more impressed with the idea that it is only infectious and communicable where simple sanitary requirements have been neglected. The effects of confinement on systems hereditarily below the average and already weakened down by vice of all kinds, tend to hasten any disease latent in the system, and on this account an isolated case of one of the varieties of tubercular disease may be found cropping up. The laws of health cannot be infringed on with impunity, especially by those in whom there is a weak link in the ancestral chain. It may be said that, on the whole, we are comparatively free from chronic lung affections, despite these predetermining factors. Modern hygienic resources, the free employment of disinfectant material, happily tend to minimize, if not, to stamp out the number of occurrences of infectious diseases, and it is quite safe to say that a report of comparative immunity from these diseases is a safe indicator of the sanitary status of an institution.

The prison generally has been up to the usual standard in its various appointments, and its sanitary condition compares favourably with any other institution. The sewage works have been kept clean, free from objectionable odours, and have been operated in a very satisfactory manner.

The heating of the prison, the ventilation in the dormitories, workshops and other departments have been all that could be desired in the view-point of health and comfort. Our hospital has been thoroughly renovated, has been kept clean and comfortable and always ready for the reception of patients. Every effort, as usual, has been made for the punctilious carrying out of all directions, prescriptions and dietary, for the benefit of the sick. In the care of the sick all other measures of treatment may be regarded as other than subordinate to that of diet and careful and scientific nursing. Therapeutic measures count for naught in the absence of these pre-requisites, to which the sick are entitled everywhere. They are made, as far as possible, to feel, that they are the first consideration. It is fully impressed by the overseers on the orderlies, that the sick should not be left unnoticed or uncared for any length of time, for what seems a few minutes, to a sick person may seem hours, and leaves an impression of neglect which would be difficult to erase. Considering the amount of sickness, there were but few deaths; those who succumbed had been suffering from disease of a chronic character and were incurable from the start.

There is one case of suicide recorded. It is easy to see how shame, pain, misery and remorse may overcome a weak will. In cases of this kind the determination is often so fixed and obstinate that not only are the most unlikely means employed for the purpose, but the greatest ingenuity is frequently exercised in finding an opportunity for the commission of an act which the closest vigilance could not suffice to prevent.

There was during the year considerable sickness amongst the officers, for whom eight hundred and ninety-four prescriptions were filled, and to whom I paid, including night visits, 1,491 professional visits. One guard suffered a severe injury to his knee by a fall from his horse at the morning opening of prison, and was five months at his home under my care. Another guard was unfortunate in sustaining a fracture of his arm at his home on his evening return from duty and required attention for two months. Both these officers have their injured members restored to their former usefulness. With the exception of a couple of trifling injuries there were no accidents amongst the prisoners whilst engaged at their duties.

Insane ward.—This ward is kept scrupulously clean, and received its annual renovation during the year. The heating arrangements have given every satisfaction and the ventilation in the dormitories and other apartments has been assiduously looked after. The inmates are given an opportunity to amuse themselves with innocent games in the large recreation room, and during the summer months they are afforded every means to amuse themselves under the charge of officers on the grounds attached to the ward. There has been a decrease in the number of the inmates owing to a large number having regained their mental health and were returned to their usual work; of the number ten were discharged as cured and nine were so far improved as to be able to resume work in the prison proper.

Prison of isolation.—This ward is kept in a good sanitary condition and the inmates during the period of their involuntary sojourn in it, have not suffered in bodily or mental vigour as the result of solitary confinement. An inmate suffering from any acute disease is removed to the hospital where he can have the advantage of special care and diet until his recovery. The corridors and sleeping apartments give forcible evidence of the laws of sanitation being carried out. The living in this department is much enhanced by the perfect heating facilities. The inmates are kept clean in their person and clothing by those in charge.

Female ward.—The inmates of this ward enjoy fairly good health and at the end of the year there were no complaints in this matter. One of the inmates during the winter suffered from a serious illness, and I am pleased to be able to give testimony to the great care night and day by the matron and deputy-matron, to whom may be attributed her slow but complete recovery, when all hope at one time appeared to be lost. Cleanliness in this ward is a marked feature.

Prescriptions.—The number of prescriptions dispensed during the year independent of hospital patients amounted to: For officers, 894; prison of isolation, 199; insane ward, 168; female ward, 90; dispensary patients, 5,221; number of days in hospital, 4,585; aggregate number of prisoners for whom treatment was prescribed, 6,116; number of cases of officers who received treatment, 126; number of prisoners treated in hospital, 442.

It is with much pleasure that I speak of the prompt and intelligent manner in which the hospital overseer, and his assistant, performed the duties of their office.

ST. VINCENT DE PAUL.

St. VINCENT DE PAUL, July 5, 1906.

To the Warden.

I have the honour to submit my annual report for the fiscal year 1905-1906.

The sanitary condition through the institution was very good. Four thousand nine hundred and forty consultations were given during the year, and forty-nine officers called for me on different occasions. Many of them had to stay home for many days, and though not seriously ill, could in no way fulfil their duty.

Two accidents which could have severe consequences occurred to convicts. One was caused by a piece of steel in the eye of a convict while working at the shoe shop. The other convict had his ankle opened, being struck by an axe while working at the carpenter's shop. Both of them have recovered very well.

I again call your attention to the hospital and isolating cells, which we need badly. Often during the year I had to keep under observation many convicts who were growing insane or had to be isolated for many days. The above patients are sent to the north wing, where very often they become worse. Those cells are too narrow and uncomfortable, being punishment cells. Moreover we have in the institution a few epileptics, and their cells are far from being what they ought to be.

As to the quality and the quantity of food given as rations to convicts, it cannot be better, being well prepared, well cooked, etc.

Deaths.—Three convicts died during the year, namely, Perry, Louis, alias Viau, inflammation of the bowels; Morrier, Louis, asthma and heart disease; Chouinard, Edouard, poisoned by shellac.

E. P. DOHERTY,
Surgeon.

MANITOBA.

STONY MOUNTAIN, July 14, 1906.

To the Warden,

I have the honour to submit my annual report for the year ending June 30, 1906.

During the past year the health of the prisoners has been fairly good. Excepting consumption and one case of typhoid fever there were no severe illnesses. The most frequent complaints were colds, constipation, diarrhœa, lumbago, ophthalmia and eczema.

There were no accidents.

Three deaths occurred during the year, all due to tuberculosis. Several convicts were liberated who were in the last stages of consumption and who had they remained, would have increased the death rate.

The alteration and renovation of the prison basement has much improved the ventilation, light and sanitary condition of same.

Better means of disposing of sewage and an increase in the available supply of water are necessary.

The health of your officers was not more satisfactory than last year. While nine officers were not reported sick at all during this year, nine others were absent on account of illness 177 days, or an average of nearly 20 days each. Number of days officers absent from duty on account of sickness, 346.

The expenditure for drugs was $166.33, making a slightly lower per capita cost than last year. The usual statements are appended.

BRITISH COLUMBIA.

NEW WESTMINSTER, July 1, 1906.

To the Warden,

I have the honour to submit my annual report as surgeon of the British Columbia penitentiary for the year ended June 30, 1906.

The health of the convicts has been good, very few serious cases of illness having occurred. The number treated in hospital is slightly less than last year, while the number treated as dispensary patients shows a slight increase. The number of days spent in hospital was two hundred and fifty-three, and the number of prescriptions filled was one thousand nine hundred and ninety.

No death occurred during the year, but four convicts became insane and were removed to the provincial hospital for the insane.

I have the honour to be, sir,
Your obedient servant

W. A. DE WOLF SMITH
Surgeon.

CHAPLAINS' REPORTS.

KINGSTON.

PORTSMOUTH, July 3, 1906.

To the Warden,

I have the honour to present herewith my report for the year ending June 30, 1906. At that date there were under my charge 294 prisoners—males, 290; females, 4—divided according to their religious beliefs as follows:—

Our library has been replenished by a number of useful books. It is, indeed, a comfort and a blessing to the men, and should receive whatever supplies of books are necessary to keep it in a permanent state of usefulness.

The school fills a most important place in the prison, and, perhaps, is not as highly prized as it ought to be. It is a pleasure to be able to say that only a few of the prisoners cannot read, and that many a youth has learned to read and write, and a trade also during his stay here; and so has carried away with him the means of earning a living as well as of self improvement. I feel, however, that every man here who cannot read should be obliged to learn, if he has any capacity to learn at all, and that attendance at school should be for such a part of the prison discipline.

On Sunday afternoon, November 26, 1905, we were favoured by a visit from the Right Rev. Dr. Mills, Bishop of Ontario. His Lordship preached a most impressive and helpful sermon which was much enjoyed by all present.

Our chapel services are as bright, devotional and interesting as ever, and the choir, notwithstanding continual changes, keeps up to about its usual strength, and does its part well.

Mr. R. Harvey, the talented organist of St. George's Cathedral, Kingston, and his brother, the leader of the choir, have several times during the year conducted service of song at the afternoon services in the chapel, much to the delight and instruction of all concerned. Their beautiful singing and playing afford, indeed, a rich treat.

Allow me to bear witness, as far as my knowledge and observation go, to the good work of the parole system, under the management of Mr. Archibald, the parole officer. I am convinced that by its means release has come to men at the right time. Men who have learnt the lesson which imprisonment was meant to teach them, who have not criminal instincts, and who were anxious to start afresh in life, are now gaining honest livelihoods.

In regard to my particular duties I desire to say that, in spite of much indifference, real or seeming, of hardness of heart, and contempt of God's Word and Commandment among such a variety of characters, one meets continually with much encouragement. It is an inspiration to perseverance in one's efforts for the good of men to be tendered thanks for instructions received, for thoughts suggested by sermons and lectures, and to hear from personal interviews with men, acknowledgments to the effect that they have in the prison really first began to learn and think about God and the Christian religion, the duty and nature of prayer and of public worship, and have been disposed to think seriously of life and its responsibilities

Hence, imprisonment has, to many who have suffered from atrophy of the moral sense, and who had apparently forgotten God altogether, proved to be the turning point for good in their lives. It is well, therefore, to remember that some one says 'Let us not be weary in well-doing for in due season we shall reap if we faint not.'

Once again thanking all the officers for their constant help and kindness.

I am yours respectfully

A. W. COOKE,
Protestant Chaplain.

PORTSMOUTH, July 1, 1906.

To the Warden

I beg herewith to submit my regular annual report as Catholic chaplain of the Kingston penitentiary, for the past fiscal year, ended on the 30th of last month.

On that date I find recorded on the chapel register 160 men and 6 women. The number of men corresponds exactly to the number recorded a year ago.

The regular religious services were held as usual on all Sundays and holy days throughout the year, and the same good behaviour on the part of the convicts was found in evidence.

I am pleased to inform you that my relations with all the officers of the institution, irrespective of creed, have invariably been marked by the greatest cordiality, and in consequence, wish to offer them hereby the expression of my most sincere gratitude for their past acts of courtesy and kindness

I remain, my dear sir,

Yours most respectfully,

M. McDONALD,
Roman Catholic Chaplain.

ST. VINCENT DE PAUL.

ST VINCENT DE PAUL, June 30, 1906.

To the Warden.

Allow me to forward the annual report of the Catholic chaplain for the fiscal year ending with the present date.

Owing to the generous help of Reverend Father Gascon, Franciscan, the appointed extraordinary confessor of the pastor and assistant priests of our parish, the success of the religious attendance is increasing. A still greater number of convicts discharge their duties and more regularly share in the divine services.

SESSIONAL PAPER No. 34

We may happily trace up a part of this rejoicing progress to the zealous efforts of our organist and chanters to perfect and vary the singing during our ceremonies.

The number of Catholics has increased. At the beginning of the present year there were 294 men in our chapel, since, 99 have gone, including 34 licenses, 1 pardon, 3 deaths and 2 transfers to Kingston; 145 have arrived, putting the number up to 340.

Our chapel needs considerable repairs, and I hear that the authorities are aiming at restoring it soon to its genuine splendour.

For this I heartily thank them, as well as for all their other good intentions in our behalf.

Let me, sir, thankfully subscribe,

Your respectful servant,

L. O. HAREL, Priest,
Roman Catholic Chaplain.

ST. VINCENT DE PAUL, July 2, 1906.

To the Warden.

I have the honour to present herewith my eleventh annual report as Protestant chaplain of this penitentiary, for the year ended June 30, 1906.

Chapel.—The deportment of the men at our services is still very good, and if there be any change, it is for the better.

Led by the choir they join cheerfully in the singing, while the responses are general and hearty.

The chaplain has been cheered and encouraged by the fact that the chilling reserve, with which his private exhortations were in some instances received, has been laid aside, and his counsels listened to with more attention.

It is also, I hope, a sign of progress that the number of communicants has increased.

School.—Ten of the men under my charge have attended school as compared with nine last year.

Library.—The library has been augmented by the addition of new volumes of recent publications, and still plays an important part in the prison life of the men, as is manifested by the eagerness with which the books are received, and the disappointment shown by those who, for some offence, are deprived of the privilege of getting books.

I feel that my report would be incomplete without some recognition of the noble work of the Montreal Prisoners' Aid Association, in helping released prisoners to find work, supplying them in the meanwhile, when necessary, with meals, providing them in the cold weather with overcoats, warm underwear, etc., and, in some cases, assisting them financially to reach their homes. 'Inasmuch as ye have done it unto one of the least of these.'

I have the honour to be, sir,

Yours most obediently,

JOHN ROLLIT,

Protestant Chaplain.

DORCHESTER.

DORCHESTER, July 25, 1906.

To the Warden,

We have the honour of presenting the annual report as acting Protestant chaplains of this penitentiary for the year ended June 30, 1906.

On that day there were under our care 134 prisoners, of whom 8 were women, as against 127 for the corresponding day last year.

The work here during the past year has been carried on by the four Protestant ministers of the town, whose names are hereunder affixed.

The regular Sunday services have been held. The men regularly visited, both in cells and hospital.

A week-day Bible class is held in mid-week during noon hour. It is optional with the convicts whether they attend or not. The average attendance is 58.23. One of the prisoners has charge of the organ at this gathering.

Four hundred and fifty-four volumes have been added to the library. This does not include 14 French volumes.

The school, under Mr. Papineau, is doing a good work.

One convict died on Sunday, September 24, 1905. His son took charge of the remains, taking them to his home.

We tender our gratitude to the warden, deputy warden, and officers generally, for the assistance they have so readily and courteously given to us while in the discharge of our duties as chaplains.

Your obedient servants,

EDWIN A. HALL,
BYRON H. THOMAS,
C. H. MANATON,
JOSEPH McNEILL.

6-7 EDWARD VII., A. 1907

DORCHESTER, N.B., July 1, 1906.

To the Warden,

I have the honour to submit to you my eighteenth annual report as Roman Catholic chaplain of this penitentiary for the fiscal year ended June 30.

On that day there were under my spiritual charge 74 males and 3 females, a grand total of 77, as against 106 recorded in my last report.

This is certainly, as to the number, a marked decrease on the last few years. Whilst it is permitted to ascribe this decrease to the really good management and discipline of our penitentiaries, still I would be more inclined to believe that it is due to a higher standard of morality and good order in our provinces.

This year was marked here by a most gratifying event for the convicts under my care. I wish to refer to the official visit of the Right Rev. Dr. Casey, Bishop of St. John, N.B., who administered the sacrament of confirmation to 23 convicts. His Lordship spent a couple of hours with the convicts and expressed himself, both publicly and privately, as being quite pleased with their general good appearance and demeanour.

You will further allow me to bring into this report an instance of the remarkable working of God's grace into the hearts of some of these poor prisoners.

A long-sentenced convict, who came here branded with the reputation of being a hardened criminal and who assuredly proved to be very obdurate for years, was at last softened, as I said, by God's grace, and has since become truly converted.

So sincere was his conversion that leaving, with due permission, our penitentiary, he has entered into a very strict monastery where he can henceforth lead a secluded and penitential life. He has been there already a few months and seems, by all accounts, to be happy and quite determined to persevere.

A large number of good and interesting books have been added to the library. We all feel grateful to the department for this generous allowance.

As to all things which pertain to or come within the range of my office, I beg leave, in fine, to express my entire satisfaction concerning the good behaviour and the spirit of submission of the convicts under my care.

I conclude in expressing again my heartfelt appreciation of the courtesy shown to me by the entire staff, in the discharge of my official duties.

I have the honour to be, sir,

Your humble servant,

A. D. CORMIER, Pst.

A comparison of the foregoing figures with those of last year will show a decrease in the number of convicts received, and an increase in the number of convicts discharged by clemency of the Crown.

Of the 33 men received during the year, I find that in 12 cases the home influence has been good; in 6 cases, fair; in 5 cases, poor; in 1 case, bad; and in 9 cases there has been no home influence at all. Twenty-two out of the 33 attended Sunday school with more or less regularity. The age of leaving Sunday school has varied from 12 to 20 years, while the average age of leaving appears to be a trifle over 15 years. It is impossible to over-estimate the importance of home training in the development of character.

The old adage, 'an ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure,' is everlastingly true, and if crime is to be eliminated by preventing it, the knife must be used at the root of the disease, and either all vicious and pernicious influences removed from the child, or the child removed from these things destructive of all true and noble growth.

I find that of the convicts received during the year, 12 did not use liquor in any form, 21 have used liquor, and 14 of these acknowledge that liquor has placed them in their present position. The drink traffic is unquestionably the curse of the country, landing men in the felon's dock, filling the jails and penitentiaries. Surely the time is not far distant when a distinction will be made between the man who is not primarily a criminal, but who under a diseased condition of the brain has committed a crime, and the man who is a criminal in the first instance, and a drunkard incidentally.

The choir, under the leadership of Mr. McKee, is in an excellent state of efficiency, and the organ is ably presided over by Mrs. Teather, who entered upon her duties on May 1.

The men look forward to the regular Sunday service. The excellent order and close attention encourages one to spare no pains that the message may indeed be helpful and stimulating. The cynic may attach very little importance to work of this nature among convicts, but we cannot afford to forget that each devotional act in which the men take part is the seed of a good habit, which in its turn develops character and shapes destiny.

The individual conferences which I hold with the men in the privacy of my own room I consider of great importance. The cell to cell visitation I do not find of much value from a spiritual standpoint, although to a limited extent I adopt it, but I do find the visit to the hospital of considerable importance. It might be possible to say that there are some individuals into whose hearts and lives the Spirit of the living God has come, but I am not sure that it is desirable to do this, however much one may feel that to be the case. It seems to me more fitting to allow the future to tell its own story, as after all it is by their fruit that they shall be known. However, it is beyond the realm of the peradventure to say that under God there are some men at least who have left this institution better fitted for citizenship and better men in every respect than when they entered it.

The library, I find, is taken considerable advantage of, and the books being both interesting and instructive, are a factor in aiding the chaplain in his work.

The school is once again in full operation, and is from time to time visited by me.

I take this opportunity to thank you and your staff of officers for the continued courtesy extended to me in the discharge of my official duties.

I have the honour to be, sir,

Your obedient servant,

ALBERT EDWARD VERT,

Protestant Chaplain.

NEW WESTMINSTER, B.C., July 18, 1906.

To the Warden,

I have the honour to present my annual report for the year ended June 30, 1906.

Divine service has been regularly held on Sundays and holidays during the year. The conduct of convicts at the time of the service and their attention to instruction have been all that could be desired.

Nearly all the Catholic convicts discharged during the year have written me, some have visited me and I have every reason to believe that all are now leading good lives as law-abiding citizens. Without any exception they speak in terms of praise of the officers for the fair and just treatment received while in prison.

In closing, I beg to thank you, the deputy warden and officers for uniform courtesy and cheerful assistance in the discharge of my duty.

I have the honour to be, sir,

Your obedient servant,

EDM. PEYTAVIN,

Roman Catholic Chaplain.

APPENDIX E.

SCHOOL INSTRUCTORS' REPORTS.

KINGSTON.

KINGSTON, July 3, 1906.

To the Warden,

I have the honour to submit my eleventh annual report of the school in this penitentiary, for the year ended June 30, 1906.

The total number enrolled during the year was 75. Of this number 21 passed out capable of reading and writing intelligently, and with a fair knowledge of the elementary rules of arithmetic; 4 retired owing to expiration of sentence.

The present attendance is 50. The studies of these are divided as follows:—

Reading in Part I.....	16
Reading in Part II.....	12
Reading in second book and writing.....	14
Reading in third book, writing and arithmetic.....	8

The school has been conducted by Mr. H. S. Begg, assistant, in a most satisfactory manner. The pupils show every desire to profit by the opportunities afforded them of improving their minds, and while the great majority of newcomers were foreigners, from most of the countries of the world, and unable to speak or write English, their progress has been very encouraging. Their conduct while at school is generally all that could be wished for, and they are most attentive to the instruction given in their respective cells during the evening.

I have the honour to be, sir,
Your obedient servant,

W. A. GUNN,
School Instructor.

ST. VINCENT DE PAUL.

ST. VINCENT DE PAUL, June 30, 1906.

To the Warden,

I have the honour to submit my twenty-fourth and last report as school instructor and librarian of this institution for the year ending to-day.

The number of men enrolled during the year was 47; twenty-two for English and twenty-five for French.

I may be allowed, I think, in justice to myself, to say that during my long service as school instructor of this institution, whatever success I may have had, I always endeavoured to render the school useful and interesting. I exerted myself to impress on the mind of my pupils the necessity of bettering their conditions by making strenuous efforts to acquire, at school, those rudiments of knowledge the lacking of which is perhaps the cause of their misfortune.

At the close of the year the school register shows an attendance of 18 pupils, classified as follows:—

Reading, dictation, and arithmetic.	10
Spelling, reading, writing, and tables.	8

Fifty men were supplied with school requisites to work in their cells.

The library continues to take more importance by the addition of new books, but the men do not mind to read them, having cast their preference on magazines which are not published often enough to their liking.

I have the honour to remain, sir,
Your obedient servant,

J. T. DORAIS,
School Instructor.

DORCHESTER, July 1, 1906.

To the Warden,

I have the honour to submit my annual report of the school and library in this penitentiary for the year ended June 30, 1906.

At the beginning of the year the school was attended by thirty-seven pupils.

The present attendance is forty, divided as follows:—

Reading, writing and arithmetic.....	19
Reading and writing.....	10
Reading only.....	11

Six were reading in the fourth English reader, seven in the third, sixteen in the second, three in the first, and eight in the primers.

The conduct of the pupils and the progress made have been very satisfactory; they evidently appreciate the privilege afforded for instruction.

I beg to thank my superiors for the assistance given me in the discharge of my duties.

STONY MOUNTAIN, July 2, 1906.

To the Warden,

I have the honour to submit my fourteenth annual report of the school of this institution for the year ended June 30, 1906.

Owing to the short term and young convicts being put in the temporary prison, the average daily attendance was only 10·25, which is quite below the average of past years.

Of the twenty-eight convicts admitted to school during the year, two had to learn the alphabet, five knew the alphabet only, six read in the first part of first reader, eleven in the second part, and four in the second reader.

The attendance, just now, is sixteen, classified as follows:—

First reader, part first.	6
First reader, part second	7
Second reader and spelling.	2
Arithmetic.	1

The conduct and application of the pupils, while at school, were most satisfactory, and fair progress was made.

In conclusion, I beg to tender you my most sincere thanks for your kindness towards me, and for the assistance given me in the discharge of my duties.

I have the honour to be, sir,

Your obedient servant,

J. O. BEAUPRE,
School Instructor.

APPENDIX M.

FARM REPORTS.

KINGSTON.

KINGSTON, June 30, 1906.

J. M. PLATT, Esq.
Warden.

In connection with the statement of farm transactions for the past year, a few remarks regarding some of the work of the farm seems quite appropriate, for the reason, that considerable time and labour have been expended in addition to that necessary to carry on the ordinary work, as is shown under the heading 'Farm Improvements.'

As you are aware, certain portions of the farm have been used in the past as quarries, but for some time abandoned as such, and which have since remained in a very rough and dangerous condition. A beginning has been made to fill in these unsightly excavations so as to conform as near as possible with the surrounding parts of the farm. The one south of the water tower has been filled in with rough material from various sources and the whole covered with soil. It is now under cultivation and greatly improves the appearance of the farm in that locality.

Immediately in front of the farm house similar work has been in progress during the past winter, which was unusually favourable for work of that kind. Although not completed, the vast improvement already made is sufficient to justify a continuation of the work until finished.

Underdraining.—This important work has also received considerable attention since our last report. Various sections of the farm, which have hitherto been almost unproductive especially in seasons of excessive rainfall, have been underlaid with three-inch tile, the beneficial effects of which are already quite evident. Work of this kind entails a large amount of manual labour but the lasting benefits which undoubtedly follow when the work is properly done, quite justifies the expense and we strongly recommend its continuance as time and other duties permit.

Barn accommodation.—For several seasons past we have been not only greatly inconvenienced by the lack of sufficient barn accommodation, but serious loss is annually incurred by depreciation in value of crops through unavoidable exposure to unfavourable weather conditions. It is evident from the number of stacks to be seen at almost any time of the year that the productiveness of the farm has outgrown the storage capacity of our farm buildings. Furthermore, the acreage under cultivation has been increased in recent years by the purchase of more land, but no corresponding provision for storing the crop has been made. Your favourable consideration of this matter will be appreciated.

Farm Instructor.

ST. VINCENT DE PAUL.

ST. VINCENT DE PAUL, June 30, 1906.

OSCAR BEAUCHAMP, Esq.,
Warden.

SIR,—I have the honour to submit to you my first annual report, together with farm statements, for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1906.

The past year has been a favourable one for the farm produce, both grain and vegetables yielding a very good crop.

Much time and labour was devoted to the draining and cleaning of the farm during the year. No good results can be expected until it is properly drained.

I am pleased to see that my suggestions, namely: the purchase of manure and building of barns have been sanctioned by the department. This may appear expensive at first, but I am confident that before long it will prove a good investment.

A modern piggery would be much appreciated. The present one can not last more than a couple of years, and it is too small to house the number of pigs required. To supply the institution with pork during the whole year, it would be necessary to keep from 350 to 400 pigs in stock, and the present piggery cannot hold more than half that number comfortably.

Owing to a cold wet spring seeding was greatly delayed this year, nevertheless, prospects look favourable for a good harvest.

In conclusion, allow me to thank you for the valuable aid you have given me in the discharge of my duties and for the great interest you manifest for the success of the farm.

T. J. BYRNE,
Farm Instructor.

DORCHESTER.

DORCHESTER, July 1, 1906.

To J. A. KIRK, Esq.
Warden.

SIR,—I have the honour to submit my annual report of the operations upon the farm for the year ending June 30, 1906.

The prolonged drought during the summer months affected all the crops to a certain extent, more particularly the hay crop, which was not up to the average.

The potatoes were seized with a blight which was very prevalent in this section of the country last year. This prevented them from keeping well.

During the year we have cleared up 10 acres of rough upland and reditched and laid down 21 acres of marsh land. Total acres in crop, 86.

A. T. HICKS,
Farm Instructor.

SESSIONAL PAPER No. 34

MANITOBA.

MANITOBA PENITENTIARY, July 14, 1906.

Lieut.-Col. A. G. IRVINE, I.S.O.,
Warden.

SIR,—I respectfully submit the annual farm statement for the year ended June 30, 1906.

Barley and oats, 6,200 bush.; potatoes, 650 bush.; turnips, 600 bush.; onions, 56 bush.; carrots, 80 bush.; beets, 40 bush.; hay, 150 tons.

The year has been a fairly successful one. The loss of three of our best horses last fall made an expenditure of $700 necessary to replace them. Our acreage of grain is growing less each year owing to seeding down to hay. This was necessary, not being able to keep up with the work, owing to the brickyard and cell extension of prison, which takes considerable team labour during the time farm operations are carried on. When the buildings are completed the land can be put under crop again.

Our crops for the year are about the average. The cut-worm did some damage to oats, which was later sown with barley. The June rains drowned a few potatoes on low spots. The potato bugs are very bad this year, it being the first time we ever had to use Paris green.

The railroad spur is causing no end of trouble at present on account of the gates being left open and our cattle straying away.

In the statement this year, 178 lbs. of beef are charged to the steward at 7c. per lb. This beef was cut up and sold to officers on report by the steward before there was any butcher shop in the locality. The same thing was done last year, which makes the charges to the steward above contract price. Anything that is supplied the institution is always charged contract price; the same thing has been done with pork, and that is the reason the farm statement as to amount supplied steward and the steward's statement as to prison products supplied the institution do not agree, but in future any beef or pork supplied officers can go through the storekeeper's books direct from the farm.

W. GRAHAME,

Farm Instructor.

SESSIONAL PAPER No. 34

BRITISH COLUMBIA,

To Lieut.-Col. J. C. Whyte,
Warden.

SIR,—I have the honour to submit my report for the fiscal year ended June 30, 1906.

Work in all branches of the farm has been very satisfactory.

The weather was all that could be desired, and crops were most successful.

With the exception of land recently purchased, all available arable land is under cultivation. Next year several acres of the newly acquired land will be cultivated to take the place of that used by new buildings.

JOHN McNIVEN,
Farm Instructor.

APPENDIX N.

REGINA JAIL.

REGINA JAIL.

REGINA, SASK., October 8, 1906.

Inspectors of Penitentiaries,
Ottawa.

SIRS,—I have the honour to hand you herewith the usual statements relating to last fiscal year.

I have the honour to be, sirs,
Your obedient servant,

J. G. BLACK,
Jailer.

SURGEON'S REPORT.

REGINA, September 20, 1906.

To the Inspectors of Penitentiaries,
Ottawa.

SIRS,—I have the honour to present to you the report of the medical department of the Regina jail for the year ended June 30, 1906.

The health of the prisoners confined in this jail during the past year has been, on the whole, fairly good. Nothing of a nature requiring special mention having occurred during that period.

One death occurred among the prisoners. The man was very old and suffering from chronic heart disease, and was in a dying condition when sent here.

The health of the officers has been good.

Appended is a list of the diseases treated and also of the drugs on hand.

I have the honour to be, sirs,
Your obedient servant.

DAVID LOW, M.D.
Surgeon.

APPENDIX O

PRINCE ALBERT JAIL

JAILER'S REPORT.

PRINCE ALBERT, SASK., July 2, 1906.

The Inspectors of Penitentiaries,
Ottawa.

SIRS,—I have the honour to submit my annual report together with sundry returns for the fiscal year ended June 30, 1906.

During the year two prisoners attempted to escape, but were promptly recaptured. Full particulars were sent you at the time.

One death occurred during the year, Alexis Pandmanoff, one of the Doukhobor prisoners transferred from Regina jail. These prisoners refused to eat the prison diet, and were forced fed on soup and milk through a stomach tube. They were also fed three times daily on a ration of peanuts and apples. The prisoner Pandmanoff was in a very weak condition when brought here and died shortly afterwards. At my request a coroner's inquest was held, and the verdict rendered was, 'That the deceased came to his death as a direct and deliberate result of starvation, this condition being occasioned by the refusal of deceased to partake of the necessary amount of necessary food to sustain life.' A full report was sent you at the time.

The Doukhobor prisoners caused us an immense amount of trouble and expense, the extra cost being near $1,000.00, and this raised our per capita cost $40.

The daily average during the year was 25. The net per capita cost for the year is $336.71, being a considerable reduction from last year.

The proposed hospital and women's workroom have not been started yet, as we have had too much other work to do. I, however, expect to have it completed this year.

During the year the buildings have been kept in good repair, the roads graded around the farm where necessary, and the grounds around the prison have been greatly improved by lawns, terraces, flower beds and shrubs.

The present water and sewage arrangements will require attention in the near future. The intake pipe at the river will be only about 150 feet from the main sewer that is now being put down by the city of Prince Albert, and when the sewage system is completed and in operation, the water at our pipe in the river will not be fit for use. Arrangements should be made with the city authorities to supply the prison with water.

The cesspool is causing considerable annoyance to the residents in the immediate vicinity, and we should make arrangements to connect with the city sewage pipe.

During the winter months all the firewood used in the prison, and fence posts and rails to fence in the prison farm were cut and hauled from the woods on the north side of the river.

The farm lands were all fenced in the spring, and we are busy clearing off the brush from the south end of it. We should have more land, 37 acres is not sufficient.

The prisoners besides being employed on the above works, were engaged farming, gardening, sawing wood, cutting and hauling ice, and also doing all repairs to the buildings, implements, etc.

The Salvation Army hold regular services in the prison chapel every Sunday morning at 9.30 o'clock. The Church of England have service every alternate Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock, and occasional Sunday services are held by the Reverend Fathers of the Roman Catholic church. All prisoners are invited to attend these services, and fully 90 per cent attend all of them.

During the month of September we were visited by Lieut.-Col. J. S. Pugmire, of the prison gate department, Salvation Army. Col. Pugmire held an afternoon service in the chapel and afterwards personally interviewed each prisoner. The Salvation Army represented by Col. Pugmire and the local officers here are certainly doing good work among the prisoners.

During the month of October we were favoured with a visit by Mr. G. W. Dawson, inspector of penitentiaries; we were very much pleased to have Mr. Dawson with us, and only regret that these visits are not semi-annual instead of annual occurrences.

As it is the intention of the provincial government to take over control of the jails in the new province, this will probably be the last report that I will be called upon to submit to you, and before closing, I must thank you most heartily for the many kindnesses that you have extended to myself and officers of the prison, and also thank you for the courteous and prompt attention to all matters referred to you during the eight years I have been connected with the prison.

I have the honour to be, sirs

Your obedient servant,

F. W. KERR,

Jailer.

SURGEON'S REPORT.

PRINCE ALBERT, SASK., June 30, 1906.

The Inspectors of Penitentiaries,
Ottawa.

SIRS,—I have the honour to submit my annual report for the year ending June 30, 1906.

We have much difficulty finding out information about insane people sent into the jail; no particulars are sent as to how they have been behaving or as to the question of whether they are dangerous or not.

The water supply of the jail and its disposal of sewage are questions of particular importance at present. The city of Prince Albert is putting in waterworks and a system of drainage. Both of these systems should be laid down to the jail. I would recommend that the city of Prince Albert should be asked if they will give the jail the chance of using both the water and sewage systems as soon as they can be installed. The present way of pumping water from the river is not satisfactory. The cesspool is in an unsanitary condition and should be done away with as soon as possible; it has always been a poor way of getting rid of the sewage.

There is still no accommodation for prisoners who are ill; some form of sickroom should be ready for use.

Last fall and early winter we had much trouble with 16 Doukhobor prisoners, as they refused to eat anything but peanuts and apples. For several weeks they had to be forced to eat, most of the time; nearly all of them had to be fed through a stomach tube. I regret to report that one of these Doukhobors died owing to starvation, he having got too weak before the forced feeding was commenced.

One of the prisoners, James Fraser, while undergoing sentence became insane and was transferred to Brandon asylum.

I have the honour to be, sirs,

Your obedient servant,

H. A. LESTOCK REID,

Jail Surgeon.

FARM REPORT.

PRINCE ALBERT, SASK., July 2, 1906.

The Inspectors of Penitentiaries.
Ottawa.

SIRS,—I have the honour to submit my annual report for the year ended June 30 1906.

The root crop grown on the farm during the past year was good. Vegetables to the value of $264.15 were grown; we had an abundant supply for the prison kitchen during the year.

The twelve acres under cultivation were sown to oats; the crop was not a very good one, it was cut green and fed to the prison stock.

This year I have sown the twelve acres to oats, and have cropped about thirteen acres of new land.

On the new land the crop is looking well, but on the old land it will not be of much value; the land will have to be summer-fallowed next year as the ground is run down and requires a rest.

This spring I fenced in the entire farm, about thirty-seven acres, and expect to have the bush all cleaned off and the land ready for next year's seeding.

A new iron disc harrow was purchased this spring, and a seed drill should be purchased for next spring's work.

Jailer.

APPENDIX P

YUKON PENITENTIARIES

REPORT OF INSPECTOR.

DAWSON, Y.T., July 16, 1906.

The Comptroller,
R. N. W. M. Police,
Ottawa.

SIR,—I have the honour to forward herewith, for transmission to the Honourable The Minister of Justice, my report as inspector of penitentiaries in the Yukon Territory, for year ended June 30, 1906.

I have the honour to be, sir,

Your obedient servant,

Z. T. WOOD,
Assistant Commissioner.

DAWSON, Y.T., July 16, 1906.

The Honourable the Minister of Justice,
Ottawa.

SIR,—I have the honour to submit herewith my report for year ended June 30, 1906, as inspector of penitentiaries in the Yukon Territory, and, as appendices thereto, reports from the wardens at Dawson and White Horse, respectively.

There has been no change during the past year in the system in vogue in the Yukon—the police guard rooms still being the penitentiaries and jails—and the officers commanding the R. N. W. M. Police at White Horse and Dawson being wardens and jailers thereof.

As will be seen from the wardens' reports, the condition of the Territory, from the point of law and order—as judged by the very few inmates of the jails—is most satisfactory; no long term prisoners having been confined at White Horse and but eight at Dawson.

Of the convicts incarcerated at the latter place, five were committed for terms of three years each, and the other three for two years each, at hard labour. Theft was the principal cause of their detention.

The health of the inmates of the jails was, on the whole, very good; no sickness of a serious nature has occurred, and the greater number of the cases coming under the surgeons' observation have been due to colds, stomach-troubles and minor accidents.

The small number of convicts now in the Dawson penitentiary—only one being committed during the year—is no doubt attributable to the diminution in population in the northern portion of the Territory; amongst those who left were a large number of the criminal element who departed for pastures new in the various mining centres in Alaska.

In addition to the eight convicts at Dawson, some 224 persons, in all, were committed to our charge. This number, however, includes those sentenced to short terms of imprisonment, those committed and, also, those awaiting trial.

At White Horse eight common jail prisoners served various sentences ranging from fifteen days to four months; the principal cause being theft and offences in connection with the supplying of liquor to the natives.

While it is satisfactory to be able to report a diminution in crime at White Horse, we cannot expect this condition to continue, as, owing to the large influx of people into that end of the Territory, due to the opening up of new mining camps, the criminal element must be expected to increase. For this reason, while the accommodation in the jail at White Horse is ample for present requirements, preparation should be made for providing enlarged quarters; as stated in my last year's report, it is most difficult to maintain the discipline so essential to the proper conduct of a penitentiary or jail, when all classes of criminals, male and female, have to be crowded in a room 22 ft. x 12 ft.

It is a cause for much gratification that another year has elapsed without having to report an escape, especially as we have none of the resources found in penal institutions outside for the detention of prisoners. Those who have been immediately responsible for the safe-keeping of our criminals are entitled to great commendation.

No complaints were received from the prisoners during the year and their conduct has been very good.

In regard to any observations I might make tending towards improvement in our jail system in the Yukon, I can only refer to recommendations made in previous reports.

I have the honour to be, sir,

Your obedient servant,

Z. T. WOOD,

Assistant Commissioner, R.N.W.M. Police, and Inspector of Penitentiaries in the Yukon.

WHITE HORSE.

WHITE HORSE, Y.T., June 30, 1906.

To the Inspector of Penitentiaries,
Dawson, Y.T.

SIR, —I have the honour to submit herewith my annual report as warden of the White Horse penitentiary and common jail for the year ending June 30, 1906.

The R.N.W.M. Police guard room at this post is used for this purpose, the accommodation which it afforded in other years not meeting the requirements, but, was during the past year adequate to accommodate the small number of prisoners confined, who were exclusively common jail prisoners undergoing short terms of imprisonment. As it would be too optimistic to expect that the number of prisoners will remain at such a low ebb permanently, the permanent and transient population of the district being on the increase, I would draw your attention to the remarks in my last report respecting the lack of prison accommodation.

All clothing was supplied from our own stores, while the provisions were of good quality, the quantity issued being according to regulation.

The conduct of the prisoners was uniformly good, no breaches of prison discipline having occurred.

Sergt. McClelland had immediate charge of the prisoners, being assisted by a number of escorts in day time and by the non-commissioned officer or constable in charge and night guard at night.

The prison was inspected daily by the orderly officer and the surgeon, and weekly by myself as warden.

The health of the prisoners was excellent and there were no complaints.

I attach hereto the usual statistics.

I have the honour to be, sir,

Your obedient servant,

F. J. A. DEMERS, Insp.,

*Commanding 'H' Division,
Warden White Horse Penitentiary.*

DAWSON.

DAWSON, Y.T., July 1, 1906.

To the Inspector of Penitentiaries,
Yukon Territory, Dawson, Y.T.

SIR,—I have the honour to report as follows concerning the convicts confined in the Dawson penitentiary during the twelve months ended June 30, 1906.

BUILDING.

The convicts serving sentences in Dawson have been provided with quarters in the R.N.W.M. Police guard room, as in the past. This building while unsuitable for many reasons, not the least of which is the fact that it is also used for other classes of prisoners, is in fairly good condition, the floors and walls were repaired during the past year, a new roof put over part of it and the inside kalsomined. It is at the present time as comfortable as such a building erected several years ago for an altogether different purpose can be made.

CLOTHING.

A new supply of checked convict suits were received from the headquarters during the year, all other clothing being supplied locally from our stores and of the most suitable kind.

CONDUCT.

While the discipline maintained is strict, I am pleased to be able to report that few infractions had to be dealt with, and that the conduct of the convicts generally has been excellent.

HEALTH.

There has been no serious case of illness during the last twelve months, and not many cases of a trivial nature.

INSPECTIONS.

The penitentiary is visited and inspected daily at dinner time and various other hours, and has invariably been found in a satisfactory condition, the convicts having no complaints of any consequence and such as were made received immediate attention.

RATIONS.

The food supplied to convicts is ample in quantity, of good quality and well prepared.

SESSIONAL PAPER No. 34

STAFF.

The attendants consist of a provost, assistant provost, guards and escorts, who also have the common jail prisoners in charge. The latter are detailed daily from the non-commissioned officers and constables who are at the time available in the post for these duties, the average daily number required for this purpose being eleven, viz.: four for the ordinary night guard supplying the necessary sentries and seven for day escorts over all prisoners—convicts and common jail—at work outside. One escort has usually two or three prisoners in charge, and owing to the fact that there is no proper penitentiary or jail enclosure, it has only been by extreme care and alertness that attempts at escape have been prevented.

The provost and assistant provost are permanently detailed for duty over the prisoners. During the past year it has been necessary to make several changes owing to promotion or discharge, and as it requires a man with more than ordinary qualifications and tact to successfully perform the duties of provost, I trust it may be possible to obtain a little more permanency in the future.

LABOUR.

Convicts are employed at various work about barracks; in winter this consists chiefly in sawing wood and delivering it to the various buildings, and in shovelling snow.

In the summer the work consists of repairs to buildings and sidewalks, improving the grounds, and a variety of other labour which becomes necessary from day to day. They are constantly employed during working hours winter and summer.

The penitentiary is supplied with reading matter from R.N.W.M. Police sources.

A summary of convicts in our custody during the past twelve months is appended.

I have the honour to be, sir,

Your obedient servant,

A. ROSS CUTHBERT, Supt.,
Commanding 'B' Division, R.N.W.M. Police,
Warden of Penitentiary, Dawson, Y.T.

'B' Division, R.N.W.M. Police,
Dawson, Y.T.

SIR,—I have the honour to submit my annual report, for the year last passed, in connection with the penitentiary at Dawson.

Throughout the year there were no cases of sickness of a serious nature. There were forty-five cases under treatment, as per appended list.

The sanitary condition of the penitentiary is as good as can be expected from the present building; it is always clean and well kept.

W. E. THOMPSON,
Assistant Surgeon.
